Updates April 2023

Flashlight for the Scan & Charge function

The Scan & Charge function within the WCC app has received an upgrade. To start charging in the dark and for a simple scanning of the QR code, the flashlight of the cell phone can now be activated and deactivated within the function screen.
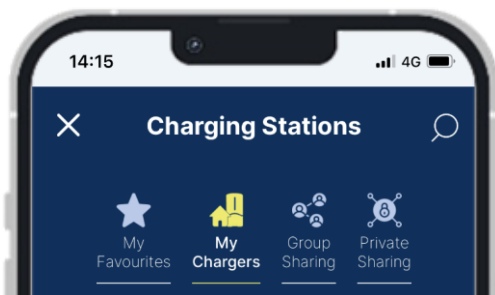

New design for the main menu bar of the app

The main menu bar at the bottom of the app now shines in a new, more modern design. The functions behind the buttons are the same as before the update.

Renaming the charging stations tabs

The tabs for the classification of charging stations have been renamed to better match the tabs to their meaning. There are still 4 tabs available:

- My Favorites: All charging stations marked as favorites are listed here.
- My Chargers: All of the account owner's own charging stations are stored here.
- Group Sharing: All charging stations shared via a group are listed here.
- Private Sharing: All charging stations temporarily shared via email are listed here.

Repositioning of the download button for charging data export

From now on, the download of the charging data export is done via the download button within the charging data graphic. This is placed in the left area of the diagram. The download can still be done as PDF, XLS or CVS file.
